THOUSANDS POURING INTO GETTYSBURG.

Women Who Acted as Volunteer Nurses Also Assembling.

Prominent Veterans Prefer Camp Life to Comfortable Hotel Quarters.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 30.—While thousands of veterans of both sides are here and other thousands are on their way to participate in the great anniversary encampment commemorating the battle of Gettysburg, there are gathering upon a quiet little street of the town seven gray-haired women who, 50 years ago, acted as volunteer nurses for Union and Confederate veterans alike. Perhaps to no one of the seven are the recollections of that time more vivid than they are to Mrs. Salome M. Stewart, a native of Gettysburg, who except for an interval of a few years, has lived in the same house that was used as an emergency hospital during the famous battle.

At Mrs. Stewart's home has been established the headquarters for the surviving nurses of the war between the states. One arrival yesterday was Mrs. Clarisa P. Dye of Philadelphia, who was among the first to respond when news of Gettysburg filtered in over the wires. The others expected to participate in the anniversary are Miss Cornelia Hancock, Philadelphia, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, Wakefield, Mass., Mrs. Mary Stevens, Peabody, Mass., Mrs. Annie C. Irving, Newburg, N. Y., and Mrs. Helen Cole, Sheboygan Falls, Wis.

Among the notable arrivals at the veterans' camp yesterday was General Daniel E. Sickles, who declined hotel quarters in favor of a tent pitched upon the site where he lost his leg during the battle. General Sickles was escorted to his tent by a cavalry detail and was cheered lustily by wearers of both the Blue and the Gray.

A picturesque personage who attracted much attention was General Felix H. Robertson of Texas, who came to town clad in the full uniform of a Confederate general. General Robertson, who is proud of the fact that he was at Fort Sumter when the first gun was fired, also declined to accept the hospitality of the Pennsylvania commission, which had provided a comfortable room for him in the dormitory of Pennsylvania College, saying he preferred to share the camp life with his men. The same attitude also was assumed by General A. J. West, of Atlanta, Georgia.

FALL OF QUAYMAS.

Constitutionalist Junta Has Everything in Its Hands.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 30.—"Guaymas has fallen. Everything in our hands." This was the brief message received shortly before noon today by the constitutionalist Junta from Hermosillo.

CONSIDERED A NEWPORTER.

Chief Machinists' Mate Michael Walsh Dies at Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Chief Machinist's Mate Michael Walsh, U. S. N., died at the Brooklyn navy yard, early Sunday morning, after a brief illness. He had been out shopping during the middle of the week and was stricken with paralysis and taken to his ship, the Hancock, at once.

Mr. Walsh was a medal of honor man, having risked his life when the Leyden went ashore on Block Island, in preventing an explosion of the boiler which would have meant the probable death of all on board. He was on the Leyden during the war with Spain, and in addition to his service on her when she was attached to the Torpedo Station he was for some years at the Training Station. He was considered a Newporter and two of his children reside here, an older one being a boatswain's mate on the Connecticut.

NOT TO BUY THE OCEAN HOUSE SITE.

The report published in several out-of-town papers that Miss M. C. Codman has bought or is about to buy the Ocean House site is incorrect. The property has been uncared for since the hotel burned, 15 years ago this coming autumn, and has become a nuisance, and the supposition was that Miss Codman, whose summer residence, "Berkeley Villa," overlooks the site, would purchase and turn it into a garden or park as a part of her estate. Miss Codman, it is understood has no intention of buying the property.

PROBATE COURT.

In the probate court this morning letters of administration on the estate of Edward J. Kiernan were granted to Katherine A. Kiernan. The personal estate will not exceed $300; bond $600, surety Patrick Nolan.

The inventory of the estate of Ruth Redman, amounting to $1,007.57, was accepted.

The first account of the executor of the estate of John La Farge was allowed; balance, $9,472.62.

The guardian's first and final accounts with the estates of Alvira May, Wesley R. and William B. Smith were allowed.

Petitions for probate of the will of Fannie S. Eddy and for the appointment of a guardian of Bertha McCarty were continued to July 7.

REGISTERING FASTER TODAY.

The registration Saturday was 121, the largest of any single day thus far. This brought the total to 645, against 1,200 last year at the same time. The registration on the last day last year was 291, bringing the total to 1,494. It does not seem likely that the last year's registration on the last day will be equalled, but it may be, for they are coming in pretty fast today. City Clerk Fullerton will keep the office open until 10 o'clock to accommodate those who may not be able to be there by 9, and no one will have any excuse to offer about not having a chance to register.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OFFERS NO RELIEF.

Will Not Call Special Grand Jury on Newport Ice Situation.

Suggests Aldermanic Investigation Like That in Providence.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, June 30.—City Solicitor Sullivan of Newport appeared before Attorney General Rice this morning, in compliance with the directions of Mayor MacLeod. He told the state official of the ice situation in Newport and of the reasonableness of seeking relief. The attorney general said the next grand jury is not scheduled for Newport county until October and he would not call a special grand jury. He suggested that there was an opportunity for Newport itself to act, and that was to follow the plan of the board of aldermen of Providence, which held an investigation for the purpose of securing abstracts or evidence which might be carried to a grand jury. With this information City Solicitor Sullivan took his departure.

The aldermen of this city hold an investigation, procured a large amount of evidence against the Providence Ice Company, and passed a resolution condemning the company for controlling the prices, but they have not carried the matter to the courts as yet.

THE IDAHO JOINS FLEET.

Admiral Winslow to Transfer Flag to The Arkansas at the New York Yard.

Saturday evening flagship Florida of the First division of the fleet sailed for the New York yard for her long repair period, and at that place Admiral Winslow will transfer his flag to the Arkansas, which is about to leave the yard. Sunday Admiral Fletcher transferred his flag to the Louisiana, that the Vermont might go to her home yard, and Admiral Usher shifted his flag to the Rhode Island, that the Virginia might also leave the fleet for repairs.

Destroyers McCall, Paulding and Jarvis have arrived, as has supply ship Celtic and tug Ontario.

The Idaho, which has recently been doing duty on the Mexican coast, arrived at 2 o'clock this afternoon and fired a salute upon joining the fleet. She is due to go to Portland, Maine, for the Fourth and the Ohio is on her way to Eastport, Maine.

Flagship Wyoming is carrying a big dent in her side, as the result of one of the naval tugs going alongside during the recent exercises at sea.

POLICE NOTES.

At the police station Sunday a woman was fined for assault and paid $12.60. This morning Tiverton sent in four prisoners, charged with malicious mischief in damaging a fence to the extent of $10. They were fined $5 and costs each, or $10.20, the total reaching $11.80. Portsmouth also supplied one case, brought in on a capias. The defendant was placed on probation for one year and promised to pay costs.

A man operating a Massachusetts car this morning drove across Thames street, bound for the Jamestown ferry, at a rate of speed which was dangerous and narrowly missed hitting a Providence car. He was gathered in and paid $12.60.

The warrant in the beach case, charging discrimination in that colored people were not allowed to dance at the pavilion, has been made out, ready for the chief of police to serve it out. Then proceedings will begin and Mr. Nolan, counsel for the beach, will have something to say.

TERRIFIC HITTING WINS FOR M'LOUGHLIN.

Parke Has Little Show Against His Panther-Like Activity.

American, With Three Straight Sets, Gains Final Round.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 30.—Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, the young American lawn tennis champion, today brilliantly cleared another fence barring his way to the title of All-England champion, by beating the formidable J. C. Parke, Irish and Scottish champion by three straight sets, in the semi-final round. The score was 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

Americans on the ground were ready before the match to wager the Statue of Liberty on the chances of their champion, and as soon as the match started there was never a doubt as to who would win. No match in recent years had so stirred the lawn tennis world, fully 5,000 enthusiasts gathering around the centre court on the championship ground to witness the struggle.

The American champion, with his terrific hitting, was too fast for Parke and his panther-like activity, especially seen during the second set, drew roars of applause from the spectators. Parke started well, flattering the British on-lookers by taking the first game, which he finished with a winning net cord stroke. The next two were taken by McLoughlin, who, coming close to the net and using his favorite cross shot, quickly had a lead. The Irishman rallied and with a series of beautiful passing drives crept up to 4-3, and then to 5-4. As soon, however, as the Californian fell back and adopted his opponent's tactics he won the next games and the set.

The second set opened evenly, each winning his service until the seventh game, when McLoughlin won on the Irishman's. This and the following games were full of excitement.

In the third set Parke again won the opening game, but McLoughlin equalized with his service Parke led at 3-2, off a love service, but the Californian easily won the sixth game and followed by taking Parke's service. With the games at 5-3 in favor of the American Parke made a final effort, and by fine driving took the score to 5-4, but this was the end. The American easily won his last service and the right to play in the final for the title.

Stanly Doust, the Australasian Davis cup team captain, and Oscar Kreutzer, the German, will contest their semi-final round tomorrow.

SMALLER CROWD AT BEACH.

Enlarged Dining Room in Use Sunday; Family Parties Cross to Middletown.

There did not seem to be such a great crowd at the beach as on some of the preceding Sundays, but it is customary to look for smaller numbers on the Sunday just before a holiday. The east section of bathhouses was open for the first time, but the Old Mill was not in operation, as had been hoped. The flume was filled with water, but much work remained to be done on the structure. The boats have been placed in their dockyard and are all in readiness.

Notice has been given that the hot salt water baths will open with the month of July and all sorts of treatment in this line are to be provided. The convention hall has received its decorations for the season and the effort has been to make it particularly attractive in appearance. The larger part of the enlarged dining room was in use Sunday, for diners are on the increase.

The wiping out of the sand dunes by the development of the beach has caused some of the little family parties which used to gather in them to eat their lunches and loll about in the sun and air, to feel rather lost and it was noticed that a number of these parties crossed the creek into Middletown Sunday.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE CHANGE.

The very latest from the custom house leaves it uncertain just what will be done this afternoon. One thing is certain; Collector Carr will turn the office over at 4:30. He is supposed to turn it over to a representative of Collector Gardner of Providence, but up to the hour of going to press Collector Gardner had not said anything official. It seems likely that the office will be turned over to Deputy Collector Walcott, who will undoubtedly be in charge, though no notice to that effect has been received. Collector Carr has sent his resignation to Washington and received an acknowledgment. His term ends by the new law tonight.

HOPKINS FAILS TO SCORE.

Visitors Shut Out by Trojans When a Run in the Ninth Seemed Sure.

New Jersey Team Defeats Broadways, 10 to 5; Large Crowd Disappointed by Louisiana Men.

The Hopkins team of the Providence Amateur League put up a first-rate article of ball at Wellington Park Sunday. While it failed to score it was in the game all the time and gave the fans a great ninth-inning sensation, when the bases were full with none out. It looked like a sure run, but Jakey Sheehan was right on the pitch, and with good support and the aid of the only double play of the game the visitors were shut out.

The weather conditions were ideal, the sun was bright and what wind there was did not make it any cooler for those in the grandstand. The attendance was good; perhaps not quite up to the top, but still good.

The visitors were a stocky set of players and showed the training of the league, doing things as they should be done and playing ball every minute. Of the locals it can be said that they showed more pepper than before this season. There was a change in the line-up which helped, young Martin being given a chance to play part of the game and making good.

The Trojans at the start were a trifle off in throwing, as the past week had been given up entirely to batting practice, and that it was time well given was apparent to all. There were some good hits. West, O'Connell and Martin all driving out stinging two-baggers. Aldred made a good catch off Jim O'Connell in the sixth and Wilson a great one off West in the seventh, while Meehan's catch of J. Martin's foul fly in the fifth was no boy's play.

The placing of Willie Martin on his old position, at second, has quickened the infield greatly and when he is settled down it looks as if the infield would be much faster. While he fell down on the attempt at an out at first in the ninth, it was a good try for a starter.

There were but two foul marks, one for each line, in the shape of red flags, but there was no close decision.

The Trojans started right after the game in the first, West banging the left field fence with what looked like a home run, only to be left. In the second they broke the ice, and piled up more each inning until they had a comfortable lead. It was an entirely different style of game from that which the Trojans have been playing and every one was glad to see them hit them out.

The visitors had a look at a run in the fourth, when they had the bases full on two passes and a hit, but the next batter grounded to Sheehan for a force-out at the plate. Again in the ninth it looked sure for a score. Morris opened with a safe one, Cardarelli followed with one which Gillis let go by. Smith hit an infield grounder which Martin just missed and the bases were full, Manney hit to Ralph O'Connell, for a force-out at the plate. Leahy drove one to Gillis in right, and on a perfect throw Cardarelli was caught at the plate and the visitors had been blanked.

The score:

Saturday the Broadways played the New Jersey team at the Vernon Avenue ground. Orr pitched, but the New Jersey team played a good team game, and fielding and batting well won, 10 to 5.

Sunday the Broadways were to have played the Louisiana team, but the latter failed to appear and a large gathering, the largest of the season, was disappointed. Arrangements had been made for the game and a representative of the locals waited at the dock, but no one came ashore. The impression produced by the Louisiana team in its two games with the Nebraska is that the New York Giants is the only team they would care to play.

The Trojans have arranged to have the Lisbons play at the park July 4, and the Anawans of Taunton next Sunday.

The Cozzens Athletic Club defeated the Minor League All Stars in a game at the Vernon Avenue lot Sunday by the score of 8 to 7. W. Integlia's long hit was the feature of the game. The score:

DEATH OF SISTER MARY ANN.

Sister Mary Ann, in charge of the parochial school of St. Mary's Church, Pawtucket, died in that city Friday and her funeral took place from the church this morning. She had been a member of the Sisters of Mercy 25 years, during which time she had been stationed in the parochial schools of New Bedford, Fall River and in this city, going to Pawtucket about 10 years ago. She had no relatives in this country, but leaves many friends among the pupils whom she taught in the several cities, as she was a good teacher and liked by pupils and parents.

SOME SPECIAL FEATURES.

Canonchet Lodge of Odd Fellows to Celebrate Thirtieth Anniversary.

Canonchet Lodge, No. 2139, G. U. O. O. F., will celebrate its thirtieth anniversary with literary and historical exercises and a promenade concert in Masonic hall this evening. It is expected that a notable feature of the exercises will be the answering of the roll-call of charter members by six, who are still members of the lodge. One of these six, Mr. Benjamin A. Williams, the first elected secretary of the lodge, will read the roll, and another, Mr. Charles F. D. Fayerweather, will read a history of the lodge. The other four surviving members are Messrs. Stephen G. Payne, who organized the lodge; David D. Allen, Abraham L. Ash and Nathan T. Jackson.

The exercises will be opened with the singing of the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," followed by prayer by Rev. T. Wellington Henderson, D. D. Benjamin A. Williams will read the roll of the charter members, Mrs. C. Etta Phillips will sing "Thinking," by C. A. White; E. O. Jackson will read the roll of the present members and Mr. Fayerweather the history of Canonchet Lodge. Mr. J. O. Banks will sing and a paper on the "Relation of the Household of Ruth to the Odd Fellows" will be read by Mrs. Amanda Richards.

Addresses will be given by District Grand Masters J. J. Robinson, M. D., on "Odd Fellows of the Rhode Island District" and Colonel I. L. Roberts of Boston will give the annual address. Mr. Joseph L. Phillips and Mrs. C. Etta Phillips will sing "My Cavalier," and the exercise will be closed with the singing of "All Hail the Powe of Jesus' Name."

The promenade concert will follow with Noble Grand M. Alonzo Van Horne leading the grand march for the dances.

Your Telephone Expert.

THE switchboard operator who answers your telephone call has a mission in life—her mission is to serve you. She has at her finger tips the most modern telephone equipment in the world. Quickness, accuracy and courtesy are her essential qualifications.

Frequently she is called upon to act quickly in emergencies when courage and presence of mind are required.

It is as essential to good telephone service, that each Bell Telephone operator should be healthy and happy as it is that every part of the equipment of that great inter-communicating system should be in good working order.

In the Bell system, 70,000 operators make connections which furnish clear tracks for 26,000,000 telephone talks each day.

Cool Sparkling Soda

SERVED AS IT SHOULD BE.

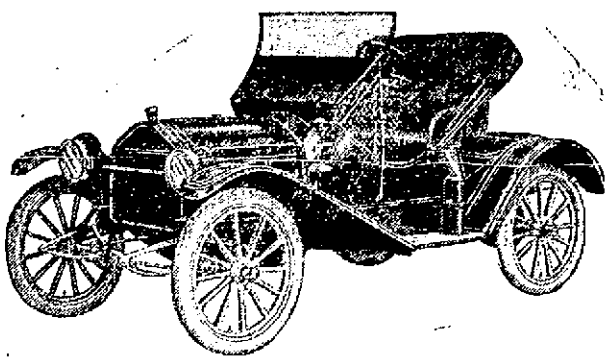

Daintiness marks the making and serving of our soda water—satisfaction and refreshment follows the drinking. Fairly good soda is not hard to find, but absolutely perfect soda is a rarity. We serve perfect soda, because we have the fountain, the experience, the skill—and do not hesitate to spend money to make our soda best. Scores of popular drinks to choose from.

We serve all of the popular fountain beverages and have several popular specialties.

Our Ice Cream is rich and delicious and we use plenty of it in each glass of Ice Cream Soda. Better begin soon, so as to get your share of the good things served at our fountain.

KANSAS WINS FIVE FIRST PLACES.

Lively and Interesting Contests Between Battleship Teams at Fort Adams.

The Virginia Takes Fairmont Hotel Cup in the Tug-of-War With the Florida.

The annual track and field meet of the Atlantic fleet took place Saturday afternoon at Fort Adams, with a large number of entries from various battleships and some lively and interesting contests. The Kansas team won with 40 1-3 points, its nearest competitor being the Utah, with 27. Kansas won five first places and had a representative in a place in every event.

The Virginia won the Fairmont Hotel cup, defeating the Florida in the tug-of-war. This cup was first won by a navy over an army team from the Presidio in San Francisco and went to the Virginia, from which the Florida took it and gave to the fleet for a fleet trophy. The elimination contests were held during the week and the contest had narrowed down to Virginia and Florida. Saturday's contest was a good one, the Virginia team being able to gain but a short distance in the five minutes.

The results of the several events were as follows:

440-yard dash—1, Strauser, Louisiana; 2, Tousic, Panther; 3, Clarke, Kansas; time, 57 seconds.

Half-mile run—1, Bell, Wyoming; 2, Wyrkowski, Utah; 3, Phillips, Kansas; time 2 minutes 23 1-5 seconds.

100-yard dash—1, Toner, Kansas; 2, Warren, Utah; 3, Sedgwick, North Dakota; time 10 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—1, McQueeny, North Dakota; 2, Lancaster, Utah; 3 Phillips, Kansas; time, 5 minutes 5 seconds.

220-yard dash—1, Eagers, Kansas; 2, Newton, Wyoming; 3, Manning, Rhode Island; time 25 2-5 seconds.

High jump—1, Van Zile, Utah; 2, Seaver, Wyoming; 3, tie between six men from the Louisiana, North Dakota Kansas, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Virginia.

Running broad jump—1, Donelson, Virginia; 2 Hester, North Dakota; 3, Clarke, Kansas; distance, 20 feet.

Pole vault—1, Spalione, Utah; 2, Poquette, Kansas; 3, Smith, Louisiana; height, 10 feet.

Shot put—1, McKernan, Kansas; 2, Van Zile, Utah; 3, Foster, Rhode Island; distance, 37 feet, 2 inches.

Hammer throw—1, Drain, Kansas; 2, Victure Louisiana; 3, Murnave, North Dakota; distance, 85 feet 4 inches.

Standing broad jump—1, Drain, Kansas; 2, Neal, North Dakota; 3, Halltown, Rhode Island; distance, 10 feet 4 inches.

Relay race—1, Utah; 2, Kansas; 3, North Dakota.

Tug-of-war—Virginia.

The standing of the teams with points won is as follows: Kansas 40 1-3, Utah 27, North Dakota 18 1-3, Wyoming 12, Louisiana 11 1-3, Virginia 10 1-3, Florida 3, Panther 2, New Jersey 1 2-3, Vermont and Georgia, 1 point each for entry in tug-of-war.

Lieutenant Albert M. Cohen, fleet athletic officer, had charge of the meet, assisted by Physical Director J. R. Conaway of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. The officials were as follows:

Referee—Lieutenant C. J. Rowcliff, Virginia.

Judges at finish—Ensign H. R. A. Borchardt, Vermont; Ensign S. B. Macfarlane, Vermont; Ensign J. M. B. Smith, Panther.

Field Judges (measurers)—Midshipman D. W. Armstrong, Kansas; Ensign W. H. Bowman, Kansas; Ensign H. E. Overesch, North Dakota; Ensign William S. Nicholas, North Dakota.

Time Keepers—Ensign W. A. Shaw, Georgia; Ensign E. Buckmaster, New Jersey; Ensign R. W. Holt, Wyoming.

Clerk of the course—Ensign A. D. Bernhard, Kansas; assistant, Midshipman E. T. Short, Florida.

Recorder—Lieutenant Albert M. Cohen.

Starter—Ensign P. V. H. Weems, North Dakota.

FOR AMERICAN TOURISTS.

Passes to Visit Places of Interest in England Issued by Lord Chamberlain.

Americans are to have an opportunity, owing to the efforts of Ambassador Page, of seeing many picture galleries, the crown jewels in the Tower of London, and others of England's sights which have been closed to the general public on account of the suffragette outrages. Since the middle of January practically all collections of value and works of art are locked tight, and tourists have been bitterly disappointed at finding themselves unable to gaze at the venerable relics of England's glory and historic achievements. The Lord Chamberlain has now issued passes to American tourists to visit places of interest which are closed to the general body of English people. No passes are granted except with the distinct understanding that the American embassy is held responsible for the behavior of the pass holders, thus vouching for their respectability.

THE CAPTAIN QUINBY CASE.

Inebriety Charge Not Sustained, Others Substantiated.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has acted on the report of the court of inquiry held recently at the Norfolk navy yard, to investigate a controversy between Rear Admiral Robert M. Doyle, commandant of the yard, and Captain John B. Quinby, commanding the receiving ship, which developed out of a report made by Rear Admiral Doyle.

The charge of inebriety was not sustained before the court and was ordered stricken from Captain Quinby's record. Other minor statements of an unfavorable nature, however, were substantiated. Secretary Daniels has sent letters of admonition to both Rear Admiral Doyle and Captain Quinby. He has also directed that a copy of the proceedings of the court be filed with the official records of both officers. No further action will be taken by the department in the case.

HOSE DRIVER TITUS RESIGNS.

John F. Titus, who has been driver of hose reel No. 1 since 1891, has resigned to accept a position as caretaker of the General J. Fred Pierson residence on Bellevue avenue. The Board of Firewards at its meeting Saturday evening accepted the resignation and will recommend to the Board of Aldermen the election of Edward P. Shea, at present relief man for the other drivers of the department to take off duty, as permanent driver of reel No. 1, and William J. Shepley of Engine No. 1 to take Shea's place as relief man.

SUNDAY A GOOD DAY.

Special Sermons and Excellent Music at Shiloh Baptist Church.

Sunday was a good day at the Shiloh Baptist Church. In the morning Rev. O. Paul Thompson preached from Psalms XLVI:5, at the afternoon Rev. Clifford Miller was the preacher, taking for his text Genesis XLIX:10. The congregational choir sang.

In the evening the pastor, Rev. H. N. Jeter, D. D., took for his text, acts XXVI:22. He referred to the remarkable progress made by the church, how God had wonderfully blessed it and the blessings had extended beyond the confines of the church. He also spoke of the demands of the hour, especially, among the negro people affirming that concentration of effort, and unity are much needed factors for their betterment. The music by the choir was excellently rendered, assisted by Mr. Uriah S. Richards, who gave a bass solo entitled "Who Treads the Path of Duty," by Mozart. There was a duet by Mesdames E. Young and Mary Jeter Suiter, "As Pants the Heart," and a solo, "These are They," by Gaul. There was a large audience.

This evening Mayor MacLeod will deliver an address on "The Worth of a Christian Church and a Well Regulated Sunday School in the Community." The city officials have been invited to attend. The Sunday School will furnish an interesting program.

Chocolate Cake.

Cream half a cupful of butter and add, gradually, one and a half cupfuls sugar; beat in the yolks of four eggs, add two cupfuls flour, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, a quarter-teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful vanilla extract, a quarter-pound of grated chocolate, mixed with five tablespoonfuls of boiling water, and half a cupful of milk. Mix well and fold in the beaten whites of the eggs. Pour into a buttered and floured cake tin and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes.

Breaded Lamb Chops with Green Peas.

Wipe each chop with a damp cloth and trim off any extra fat. Break an egg in a saucer, add a tablespoonful warm water and beat with a fork just enough to break the stringiness. Have ready a quantity of dried and sifted bread crumbs. Cracker crumbs are often used, but do not give as crisp a crust. Dip each chop in the egg, lift up and drain for a moment, then roll in the crumbs. Repeat until the chops are breaded. In a saucepan put a tablespoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and sugar and one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper. Place over the fire and, as soon as hot, add one quart of shelled peas. Cover and, saute for two or three minutes; add just enough boiling water to keep from burning and cook, adding a little water as needed, until tender. Have a quantity of fat in a saucepan. Heat until smoking hot. Plunge in two or three chops at a time; in half a minute draw to the side of the fire and cook more slowly. They should be done in from five to eight minutes, according to the thickness of the chops. Drain on unglazed paper. Heap the peas in the centre of a platter and range the chops round.

THE LITTLE MASTER.

[Emma A. Lente in the Farm Journal.]

The little master lies so still,
With quiet hands and folded eyes;
It can not be it is his will
To let the bright hours slip away,
Forsaking all his merry play—
It is a strange and sad surprise!

The little master sleeps so deep,
He does not list to any call;
He does not hear his mother weep,
Or hear the happy robins sing.
He takes no heed of anything—
We can not wake him up at all!

The little master sleeps so long;
The day and night to him are one.
No evening prayer, or morning song,
Or tripping feet adown the stair,
Or ringing laughter anywhere—
His little joyous time is done!

Oh, little master, still and cold,
Fairer than all the fair, you lie
This last hour in the dear home-fold,
And then you couch a low, green bed,
With sweet flowers strewn above your head—
Oh, little boy, good-by, good-by!

About Dentifrices

Many of them are mere cleansers—do not possess medicinal value.

Why not try a preparation that not only cleanses and polishes to perfection, but one that will correct most ailments of the gums and that will keep the mouth immune. The positive healing powers of are recognized by the Dental Profession. Many know that it contains a large percentage of Forhan's Pyorrhea Astringent, a remarkable germicidal antiseptic, used by Dentists the world over and is the only dental cream that is free of alcohol—an element which the dental profession opposes.

If your teeth are loose, your gums soft, spongy or receding, this unusual preparation will be a boon to you.

Sold in 50 cent size tubes at 25 cents. Compounded under personal supervision of Dr. J. J. Forhan by The Forhan Co., New York city. Ask The Frank L. Powell Pharmacy.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.
The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

JUDGE LOVETT'S EXPERIENCE.

Of course the persons mentioned by Judge Lovett in connection with efforts to induce the Union Pacific to employ certain lawyers to smooth the way for it through Congress indignantly deny any effort to obtain money improperly, and we make no attempt to analyze their statements or to adjust them to those of the president of the Union Pacific, or to determine which is right. There are always possibilities of misunderstanding, where it is disagreeable to find one party or the other to a controversy in a lie.

Whatever may be the facts underlying this affair, there is no doubt that Judge Lovett's statement describes accurately what happens in many instances. There are lawyers more prominent in politics than in the profession, oftener seen around Congressional and legislative chambers than in courts, and persons who are seldom seen anywhere except around legislative bodies, and whose membership of the bar merely serves to give them a respectable status, who are always on the watch for legislation which might affect some large moneyed corporation able to pay well for being let alone, if its managers can only be persuaded that that is good policy.

These men can probably influence 1? votes of Congressmen, though they might have relations with half a dozen which would give them a chance. They are probably without influence of any sort in the Department of Justice, and their usefulness in courts is at most no greater than that of any other member of the bar. They would like to be "retained" by corporations of several hundred million dollars capital to look out for their interests, and they have ways of having themselves and their purported influence brought to the attention of men who are in a position to pay large amounts for legal, or so-called legal, services. Many corporations pay such men without looking closely into their power to render service, on the general ground that they do not cost a great deal, relatively to the size of the stake, and it would be wiser to have their good will than their enmity. If the former amounts to little, the latter might be troublesome. The legal expenses of moneyed corporations include many fees to such persons.

IMMIGRATION LEAKAGE.

That there is a dangerous leakage in immigration through the admission of diseased or criminal persons as members of crews of incoming steamers has been established beyond a doubt and the proof secured is sufficient ground for some action to prevent the continuance of such a practice. It has been found that men who had been sent back to the countries from which they came, after a decision that they could not land because of disease or their record for the commission of criminal acts, had been shipped here as members of the crews of steamers and thus gained admission which had been denied them as passengers, and which for the good of this country they ought not to have obtained under any pretence. This should be stopped at once, and it would be easy to do so if a law were passed prohibiting such a practice. It is idle to permit such a simple evasion of the law to nullify its intent and meaning.

This is, however, not the only method of leakage and it is well established that a thorough revision of the immigration laws is needed, not only to prevent this particular form of evasion of the present statutes, but also to stop other ways of introducing persons who are not desirable as citizens. This country has always erred on the side of the immigrant rather than the nation and it is time the latter was made the standard in the passing of laws governing the coming of strangers to these shores with the purpose of settlement. It is well to be generous and charitable, but well also to be reasonable and not permit good feeling toward others to bring trouble and disaster to one's self. This is true as regards nations and it is time the United States practiced such a spirit in the enforcement of its immigration laws and the enactment of new statutes to meet new conditions.

The literary tests for immigrants, concerning which there has been much discussion and controversy, is well enough in its way, but it is evident that it will not suffice to keep out many who are not desired and whom for our own protection we should not allow to settle here. What is needed is something a great deal more stringent than a literary test as a basis of admission for those who wish to make this their future home. At the bottom of this foundation of immigration legislation should be a law which will prevent the evasion of the present statutes by such easy subterfuges as this of shipping men and women as members of steamer companies who have already been deported because they were not eligible for admission even under the existing laws. That is simply a means of protection, needed not only for the welfare of the country but also to prevent us from being the laughing stock of others, because of the ease with which the regulations concerning immigration can be and are broken.

The United States needs immigrants for the work to be done here, but not those who are diseased or criminal. It already has too many of these classes, admitted in past years, and it should not permit more to come under any excuse. What is needed is men and women who are strong and healthy enough to do the work which lies ready for them, and honest and upright enough to make good citizens. Such immigrants can be quickly absorbed into the body politic and made useful to the nation. Thousands of such have already been assimilated and become good citizens and are helping to make the nation the power it is among others. These are desirables, but the diseased and the criminal are not wanted and should not be admitted for any reason. Particularly they should not be allowed to land through any infraction or evasion of the regulations which will make them at the start of their life here feel that they need not respect the law but can break it with impunity.

THE MARCH OF POPULATION TOWNWARD.

Nearly every discussion of the drift of population from the rural districts to the urban centres assumes that it is an American phenomenon and of recent origin. Both are errors. The movement has been going on in this country ever since we have taken censuses, and for many years all over Europe, and it even appears in Australasia.

French economists have recently drawn alarmed attention to the deserted farms, of which we have heard a good deal in our own New England states and New York. The great increase of German population in the past 40 years has been almost wholly in the cities: the country districts have little more than held their own. In the United Kingdom all the great cities are increasing in population faster than the country districts, or when the latter are actually losing.

Before the tenth international congress of agriculture in Brussels M. Meline, ex-premier of France, deplored the movement of population from country to town and spoke of the vital importance of preventing it, but how is it to be prevented? The movement is in response to great economic forces. In towns there is employment every day in the year; on the farm there is little after harvest and still less in the winter. There are possibilities of better wages, too, because the industries call for considerable degrees of skill, which are better rewarded than the labor of the fields.

M. Meline said that, while the population of the world is increasing, the production of cereals and meats is decreasing. We know all about that and see the result in the increasing prices of food. If the higher prices of farm products do not make agriculture remunerative enough to keep the rural population at home, as one would suppose it must do, we are not aware of any way of preventing the movement of population toward the cities. Colonel Roosevelt's uplift commission merely suggested some means of making rural life more interesting and comfortable, which at present prices of grain and meats should be effected by the farmers without help from commissions.

The Senate finance committee is still amending the tariff bill. Among the latest sections put into the measure is one which provides that sales or agreements to sell cotton for future delivery, in conformity to the rules of cotton exchanges, boards of trade or similar associations, shall be subject to a tax of one tenth of one cent per pound, to be refunded in all cases if the cotton is actually delivered. The amendment is designed to prevent gambling in cotton futures. Why should this be confined to futures in cotton, when there is as much need of such a provision regarding wheat, which is traded in largely in futures, and other products. The cotton tax was proposed by a representative of a Southern state, where cotton is grown. Some Western Senators might do as much for wheat.

There is a feeling in Washington that Attorney General McReynolds will soon be out of the cabinet, and that the recent action of the President in ordering the prompt prosecution of the alleged violators of the white slave act in San Francisco was but the side-tracking of the issue, which must come sooner or later between Mr. Wilson and the head of the law department. McReynolds is suspected of being at heart a Republican and is not popular with the Democrats in Washington. It is said that every opportunity is seized upon by Democrats having influence with the President to obstruct and embarrass his administration of the Department of Justice.

The Blue and the Grey are together again at Gettysburg, but in a widely different spirit from that which actuated them 50 years ago. Now there is peace, with a hearty hand-shake and a welcome for the survivors of the two armies which bitterly opposed each other for three days in 1863.

The last of June finds the Newport summer residences more fully occupied than usual so early in the season. The first week in July will bring others, so that Newport will have an early season, with few cottages unoccupied.

While the prospects of a peaceful settlement of the differences between Servia and Bulgaria seem to be improving, there is still danger in the military situation.

June has reason to be proud of the weather furnished this year. "Then, if ever, come perfect days."

PUBLIC INTERESTS.

Modern Franchises Tend to Give Each Side a Fair Deal.

[Arthur W. Brady, in Aera.]

There is a recognized "duty on the part of a public utility to keep pace with demands created by growth of population and developments in the industry and, in franchises granted in recent years, provisions have frequently been inserted to require observance of this duty." The tendency of the public naturally is to ask for increased service on existing lines, the extension of lines into unoccupied territory and the latest refinement in the art, without regard to cost or return. Equally natural is it for the utility, which must make and carry the investment involved in the enlargement demanded, to refrain from extensions and changes which seem likely to impose a burden out of proportion to the benefit conferred. The desire of the municipality for a free hand in the ordering of extensions is therefore opposed by the necessity which the corporation is under of having limitations imposed on that power.

Experience has demonstrated that it is impossible to lay down precisely and in detail the exact conditions under which extensions and changes shall be required throughout a period of many years. A clear recognition of the duty of the utility and the right of the public, with some simple method of enforcement, subject to a right of review by an impartial board or tribunal, is the most that, with justice to all parties, can be stated in a franchise grant. The tendency of the times doubtless is to have matters of this kind passed on, either in the first instance, or on appeal by a public service commission, thus insuring, in theory at least, the protection of public and private interests.

SHIPS OF CONCRETE.

[Technical World Magazine.]

A 500-ton concrete scow was recently launched at Baltimore. It is 110 feet long, 28 feet wide and has a depth of 10 feet, 6 inches. Others, built before this one, have shown a large saving in repairs over wooden craft. It is claimed by the builders that concrete vessels will ultimately create a revolution in ship construction.

The Italians have already made use of concrete vessels and have found them practicable, it is stated. Indeed, they seem to be of exceptionally stout build, for one of them, rammed by a small war cruiser, showed no other injury but a crack, that it was quite possible to repair successfully. This accidental test gave the constructor much satisfaction.

THE POPE AT ST. PETER'S TOMB.

Following the ancient tradition in connection with St. Peter's eve, the Pope descended Saturday evening to St. Peter's to pray on the tomb of the Apostle. At sunset all the doors to the basilica were closed to the public. Accompanied by his court, the pontiff descended from his apartment by the elevator to Raphael's loggia, from which he was carried in his chair through the Chapel of the Sacrament into St. Peter's. Here the Pope was received by the canons, who paid him homage. For half an hour the pontiff remained kneeling in prayer.

MIDDLETOWN.

Patriotic Sermon and Special Music at the Methodist Church.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

In recognition of the approaching national holiday, Rev. Edward E. Wells, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, spoke Sunday with special reference to the day. In the afternoon his sermon, "The Christian Warfare," was based upon the words: "Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ," II Timothy II:2-3, the choir presenting the anthem, "Let thy merciful ears," by Alfred R. Gaull.

In the evening the subject was "Some Opportunities and Perils.".

The special music comprised hymns of praise, the two anthems by the ladies' trio, "Sing for the praise of our country," H. K. Oliver (unaccompanied), and "To Thee, O Country," by Julius Eichberg, accompanied by Miss Sadie I. Peckham. In closing the congregation sang "America." Miss Sadie E. Peckham accompanist, Mr. Frank T. Peckham cornet.

Rev. Mr. Wells began his series of talks before the men of flagship Wyoming Sunday morning, to be continued through July.

Rev. Latta Griswold, English master at St. George's School and rector of St. Columba, the Berkeley Memorial Chapel, is planning to sail for Europe the second week in July, in company with Rev. Hugh McC. Birckhead. They expect to return in September, the school opening on the twenty-fourth.

Mr. J. Percival Grinnell and family of Wakefield motored through for Sunday, visiting relatives in Newport and Middletown.

The Junior branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Holy Cross church is planning to hold a supper early in July.

PORTSMOUTH.

In the Churches—Dr. Conway Heard From on Trip to Paris.

Rev. Anson B. Howard preached at St. Paul's Sunday morning, taking for his text Luke XIII:31. Rev. Albert Loucks preached at the Christian Church from Luke XII:15. The pastor of the Friends' meeting, Rev James M. Estes, being absent at the Yearly Meeting in Providence, a praise and prayer service was held, led by Mr. Edward C. Faulkner. Rev. Mr. Estes returned in time for the evening service.

Cards to members of the family from Dr. Francis P. Conway have been received, mailed at Plymouth and Cherboug, the first stopping place and the landing place of steamer Philadelphia, in which with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hunter he sailed for Paris June 13. He reports a fine voyage.

Mrs. Owen McElroy and her two daughters, Annie and Mary, of Providence, have taken possession of their summer cottage at Portsmouth park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gessner came today to their cottage at Island Park to spend two weeks

Mrs. Ruth H. Borden, who has been ill for a long time, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Abby E. Manchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Manchester.

The following scholars were present every day during the last term of the Vaucluse school, Mrs. Martha Eddy teacher: Mary Sheehan, Francis Sheehan, John Gibson, Alice E. Conway, Marian Albee, Bessie Gray, Frank J. Conway, Tom Silvia, Frank Silvia, Joseph Silvia and Lewis Silvia. Three have not missed a day durig the year—Alice Conway, Bessie Gray and John Gibson—and these three stood highest in the tests. Mrs. Eddy has been engaged to take the school next year.

Mr. David Albro, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Albro, has arrived home from the University of Vermont.

Mr. George A. Carter seems to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connors, of Providence, who as usual have taken "Sunny Side" at Bristol Ferry for a month, are entertaining a number of guests.

A large tree which was partly burned at the time the old Mott place on the Main street, opposite Mr. John L. Borden's residence, was destroyed by fire, has finally been torn down by the linemen of the New England Telegraph & Telephone company.

Rev. John Wadsworth preached Sunday morning from John XIV:6. The evening services were conducted by the Epworth League, led by Mr. Charles H. Borden.

Mrs. Emma Gifford of Riverside is visiting her sister, Mrs. William H. Clarke, and Mr. Clarke.

Mrs. Robert Marsden and her son John, of Rushton, England, are spending the summer as guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kershaw.

A company of 10, including residents of Fall River, Providence, Tiverton, Pottersville, and the Bronx, New York, are spending six weeks at the Marion cottage.

Mrs. Howard Pierce and her daughter were also guests of Mrs. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Sunday.

RED FLAG OF ANARCHISM.

America Needs to be Saved From the Industrial Workers of the World.

[Truth.]

Thomas G. Connolly, Esq., of Boston, a lawyer and officer of the courts, sworn to obey the law and conserve order, and supposedly familiar with the traditions and principles of American government, has evidently tied himself up with the lawless and dangerous elements of socialism and that form of anarchy which exploits itself in the Industrial Workers of the World.

He is one of those persons who find the American flag is not good enough for them; he lauds and flaunts the red flag of anarchistic communism, which has waved over ruin, destruction and the murdered bodies of the defenders and exponents of religion and civilization; and he loudly identifies the murderous red of his revolutionary flag with the red in the Stars and Stripes, which have been the symbol of peace, progress, law order, religion and home since the inception of the Republic.

His shouting partner in disorder, P. L. Quinlan, supplements insults to the flag with wild threats of sabotage in the mills of Paterson; and the audience gathered to hear these declarations of war on society wildly applaud.

How long will Massachusetts and America tolerate this sort of nascent rebellion? Is it not about time to answer violence with the vigor of the law? Society cannot afford to sit idly by when its avowed enemies seek its destruction. Self-preservation is the first law of nature and society; and those who scorn the law and violently assail it should be treated as outside the law.

Leaders of the Connolly and Quinlan stripe should be in jails or asylums. They mean to destroy society unless it destroys them; and the hour has nearly come when that "whiff of powder," by which Napoleon saved France from the Reds, must be used here to save America from her frothing, insane Industrial Workers of the World.

THE BRONCHOSCOPE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS.

An instrument known as the bronchoscope has been introduced at the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital in Philadelphia to aid in the examination of the lungs and to remove foreign substances therefrom.

The bronchoscope is U-shaped. One of the legs is hollow and is surmounted by a small mirror and an electric light. To remove a foreign body from the lungs, the hollow leg is inserted in the mouth and permitted to pass down the throat until it reaches the vocal cords. With the aid of the mirror and light on the outer end an examination of the lungs is then made and the foreign substance located. This done, a small steel tweezer is passed through the hollow tube and the offending particle removed.

The instrument affords specialists an opportunity of looking into the lungs of tuberculous patients.

BIG TENT UP ON THE BEACH.

Contractors' Shanty Moved and Powder House Pulled Down.

Progressive Committees Completing Details for Caring for Distinguished Speakers.

During the past few days many have visited the east end of the beach, to see the big tent which the Progressives are to use for their speech-making, but failed to see what they were looking for. The committee knew the tent was slowly traveling eastward but was held up now and then by the crippling of cars. The last parts arrived Saturday night and this noon the tent materialized.

After it was received it was not all clear sailing, for the powder house and the board walk contractors' shanty were on land to be covered. Sunday afternoon the shanty was moved and this morning the powder house went. The powder had previously been removed to Rocky Farm, and today a sizable gang of men almost literally pushed the structure over. By the aid of ropes to pull on and a few mauls to pound with, the walls crumbled, the roof was pulled off to one side, then the floor was pulled out of the way and the cellar was filled in.

Before the filling had taken place and the loose brick cleared the canvas was stretched over the spot and the work of preparing to hoist it on the four poles which had been erected Sunday was in progress. While waiting for much of the tent material the canvas men were employed in rigging sand anchors and burying them, as it was easily seen that there would be little use of stakes in the sand, with the winds which sweep the exposed spot.

As soon as the canvas was up the work of setting the seats for the 10,000 people who are expected to listen to the addresses was in progress, and it is demanded that the tent shall be in condition for use tonight, in order to be sure that it is ready. A portion of the seats are of the regular circus type and a portion are just board benches, with long legs driven deep in the sand. The platform on which the leaders and the speakers will sit is along the side of the board walk.

Practically the whole space between the roller coaster and the creek is taken up by the tent, which is a big one. While many spent hours to see it go up, it finally went up at a time when there were comparatively few about, but it is up and well secured.

A private conference has been called by William Draper Lewis, dean of the University of Pennsylvania, to be held tomorrow, of those interested especially in the non-political end of the Progressive movement, those to attend being connected with the reference bureaus and smaller branches of the work.

The reception committee, which includes Mrs. O. W. Huntington, Mrs. John Elliott and Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, will meet this afternoon at Mrs. Huntington's residence, to complete arrangements for the reception and housing of those who are to take part in the conferences.

Colonel Roosevelt will come from New York Tuesday night, going through to Fall River and coming here on the train which arrives at 8:10. He will be driven to the residence of Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, where he will breakfast, and then go to the beach to make his speech on the navy at 11 o'clock.

Miss Francis A. Kellar, who will be one of the principals in the conferences, will arrive tonight and be guest of Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott during her stay here.

Mrs. Pinchot, mother of Gifford Pinchot, who will have charge of the conference, will spend the summer in Newport. Mr. Pinchot will arrive Tuesday and be a guest of Mrs. Brown at "Harbour Court" while the other guests are there, and then go with his mother.

Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, who is to be one of the speakers at the dinner following Colonel Roosevelt's address, will arrive only in time for the dinner and remain but a few hours, as he is busily engaged on literary work which requires practically all his time.

The decorations for Navy day are going up all over town, having started in the outlying districts and moved gradually to Thames street. The storekeepers between Marlborough street and Washington square have arranged for a criss-cross electric light decoration on the street from the Marlborough Market to the Acker, Merrall & Condit store, and have not asked for any appropriation therefor, simply digging down in their pockets.

EVIDENCE ALL IN.

Testimony for the Defense in Bailey-Swan Chicken Case.

Judge Stearns resumed business in the superior court this morning at 11:10. Spare jurors were excused until 2 p. m.

The chicken case of Bailey vs. Swan then proceeded, Mrs. Swan taking the stand. She is a defendant and has lived on the premises. She gave the ages of the chickens and told how they were cared for. Mr. Champlin was hired to care for the live stock. The gate to the road was always kept closed, to keep the baby from going on the car track. Mr. Bailey's mother's place is next south of his and Mrs. Bailey's poultry was frequently on Mr. Bailey's property. Mr. Bailey took care of it. Sometimes Mrs. Bailey's ducks also were there.

Mr. Bailey called witness by telephone and told her he was going to put Paris green on his potatoes and he thought he would caution her lest her chickens might be poisoned. Mr. Underwood's hens were around, too. Mr. Bailey took away wire at the bottom of the fence. He did not, in the district court, say somebody desired to kill him. The only way the Swan poultry could go on the Bailey place was through the Bailey fence.

In cross-examination Mrs. Swan said she owned the chickens and the land. The wire he took down was about two feet high and extended back from the road. Witness's horse did not kick holes through that wire fence; she didn't recover judgment for it. At that trial Mr. Bailey testified that the Swan horse walked up on the Bailey fence and damaged it.

Rodman L. Champlin of Forest avenue, Middletown, was the next witness. He was employed by Mr. Swan. There was not a chicken there in May. Witness saw full-grown hens in Bailey's potato patch. Never saw Mr. Bailey there. Does not work for Mr. Swan now. He used to arrive at 7 or 8 o'clock a. m. and stay until ... p. m.

Mr. Chase, market gardener for ... s, testified that about 2,050 cabbages could be successfully grown on a quarter acre. They come up 10 or 12 to the inch.

Defendant rested.

Plaintiff was re-called and asked about a picture of a "razor back fence." He had shown it to Mr. Swan. He erected that sort of fence. He had to replace a portion of it, broken down by horses. Rodman Champlin did not testify in the district court.

Mr. Harvey called Mr. Levy, who testified in regard to memorandum, exhibit C. It was signed in his office. The parties discussed wire fences, from a catalogue, and the description used in the agreement was taken from the catalogue. Last Friday witness's attention was first called to the occurrence. There had been a question as to the interpretation of "poultry fence" and the agreement was made to make things clear.

Mr. Nolan re-called Mr. Swan, who said he did not see the catalogue now shown. There was no "cut" or catalogue shown there. Mr. Bailey's fence is no such fence as is described in the catalogue.

The evidence seemed closed and the court consulted counsel for some time, the agreements evidently being under consideration.

At 12:30 a recess to 2 p. m. was taken.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish arrived Saturday evening.

—Mrs. J. W. Pinchot and party have arrived at Bateman's.

—Mr. Cornelius McCarthy of Calvert street is at the Newport Hospital for an operation for an abscess.

—Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Darrah have returned from a trip to Chicago, Rochester, Minn., Niagara Falls and Boston.

—Steam yachts Aloha and Intrepid have sailed. Schooners Enchantress and Seneca and power boat Ariel have arrived.

—Clerk G. H. Kelley of the district court has gone to New York, to meet his wife and daughter, who have been there some days.

—Mrs. T. Shaw Safe and Master Safe left this afternoon for New York, where tomorrow they take the Rotterdam for Europe.

—The owner of the mysterious schooner came here Sunday and has taken his craft back to New Bedford. Apparently he thinks everything is all right.

—Some one sent up some fire balloons from the vicinity of King park Sunday night. The wind was southwest and they sailed fast out toward Portsmouth.

—The extra summer police will go on duty Tuesday night. It is planned to have eight in addition to the three now doing relief work. This will be as many as last year.

—Miss Isabella Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, who was operated upon for appendicitis Saturday afternoon, is reported as doing well.

—A still alarm at 2:47 this afternoon called the down-town Chemical to 51 Brewer street. The cause had not been announced when the last reports reached the News office.

—Mr. Thomas J. Murphy, of the Edward A. Brown Company, was operated on at the Newport Hospital for appendicitis Saturday and is doing as well as could be expected.

—The New England Society of Friends, which has been holding its Yearly Meeting in Providence the past week, has voted to hold the next yearly meeting at Oak Grove Seminary, Vassalboro, Maine.

—Nothing has been heard yet at the Newport custom house regarding the announced appointment of Deputy Collector William H. Wolcott, to be deputy for Newport under the direction of the collection of customs at Providence.

Among the many at the beach this morning was a party from a Fall River orphan asylum, who came on a special car and enjoyed a bath in the ocean and the other attractions. They looked as if they were having the time of their lives.

—Judge Franklin has returned from his bungalow in Kingston, where Mrs. Franklin is sojourning after a tedious sickness in this city, and where she expects to remain for some time. Judge Franklin will spend as much time as he can at the camp.

—Dockmaster John A. Jordan was taken with an attack of rheumatism at the New York dock Sunday night, just as the boat was arriving from Fall River, and was taken home. He was feeling about as well as usual when he left home a few hours before.

—Steamer Puritan will leave for New York this afternoon at 5 o'clock, to go on the dry dock. She will leave New York Thursday, July 3, on the first half of a double header for the Fourth of July trade, and will leave this end July 4, thus affording a double service on the Fall River Line those two nights.

—Among those recently at Ye Sakonnet Inn for dinner were Captain and Mrs. A. D. Raymond, Captain and Mrs. G. T. Perkins, Mrs. M. M. Smith, Mrs. Herrick, Rev. Latta Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sturtevant, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Easton, Mr. Angus McLeod, Mr. Roderick McLeod and Miss Jessie McLeod.

—Master Walter Millis, the 11-year-old son of Colonel John Millis, engineer corps, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Newport Hospital Sunday evening and his condition today is considered satisfactory, although he is not yet out of danger. He was not known to be ill until Sunday and was taken to the hospital as soon as the cause of his ailment became known. The trouble was augmented by peritonitis and his condition has been considered serious.

—The funeral of Michael Harrington took place from his late residence on Second street this morning to St. Joseph's Church, where in the presence of a large congregation Rev. Father McLoughlin as celebrant, Rev. Father O'Rourke as deacon and Jeremiah Murphy as sub-deacon celebrated a solemn high mass for the repose of his soul. The interment was at St. Columba's cemetery. The bearers being Messrs. Jeremiah Leary, Richard Burns, Daniel Harrington and Michael Harrington.

IN ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT.

United Spanish War Veterans of Rhode Island Meet in Woonsocket.

Marshall W. Hall Elected Department Commander; Testimonials Presented to Officers.

The seventh annual encampment of the Department of Rhode Island, United Spanish War Veterans, was held in Woonsocket Saturday, with 49 members present, in addition to several members of camps as spectators. Newport sent a delegation of eight. The next encampment will be held with Camp Capron of Providence. The hosts Saturday were members of Rudolf H. Breault Camp and the session was held at Elk's Home.

Department Commander Gavitt presided, the session was opened with prayer by Rev. George F. Beecher and Mayor Raphael P. Daignault followed with an address of welcome, with reply by Commander Foster of Camp Hoar. The reports showed the department to be in good condition and each camp financially sound, with a good surplus. At the national convention the department was complimented for being the first to send its reports, and as these were ready for mailing at the close of this encampment the department bids fair to receive the same distinction this year.

Adjournment was taken at noon for luncheon, served in the club dining room.

Upon re-assembling the routine business of the session was transacted and the election of officers took place, which resulted as follows:

Department Commander—Marshall W. Hall of Newport.

Senior Vice Department Commander—Henry Wolcott of Providence.

Junior Vice Department Commander—William J. Hancock of Woonsocket.

Department Inspector—Edgar W. Patterson of Providence.

Department Surgeon—Dr. Fred L. Blair of Providence.

Department Chaplain—Thomas P. McGee of Woonsocket.

Department Marshal—William E. Arnold of Providence.

Department Judge Advocate—H. D. C. Dubois of Providence.

The following delegates-at-large were elected to the national encampment to be held in Buffalo: James D. Wells of Providence, Dr. Fred L. Blair of Providence, Walter L. Grant of Woonsocket, Edward M. Patterson of Providence; alternates, William E. Arnold of Providence, Henry Richter of Newport, Zeno Waterman, Jr., of Providence, William A. Stafford of Providence.

The officers were installed by Past Department Commander Edgar R. Barker.

Arthur B. Spink of Providence was re-appointed department adjutant, an office which he has held for three or four years.

Senior Vice Department Commander Henry Wolcott, in the name of the members of the department, presented Past Department Commander Edgar R. Barker with a past department commander's gold and diamond studded badge in recognition of 23 months of hard and conscientious work as head of the department.

Junior Department Commander W. J. Hancock, for Rudolph H. Breault Camp, presented Department Adjutant Spink with a handsome loving cup as a testimonial of esteem from this camp for the work done during the time of its struggle for a footing. He paid high tribute to the official for the manner in which he keeps the records of the department.

The matter of recruiting the camps from the large amount of available material was discussed and a committee was appointed to take up the matter—Senior Vice Department Commander Wolcott, Junior Vice Department Commander Hancock, Past Department Commander Gavitt, Commanders Sullivan and Wells.

AGASSIZ COTTAGE ENTERED.

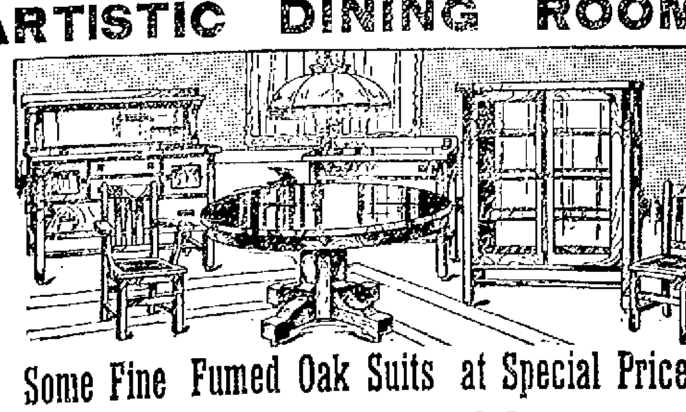

About 10:30 this morning notice was received from Castle Hill that some one had broken into the Agassiz cottage. Inspector Tobin jumped into a taxicab and hastened to the scene. In the meantime Mr. Marsland, with several other men, went into the house and found that it had been entered, but could find no traces of the men or man who broke in. A careful search was made, but all that was discovered was that the entrance had been made through a window. It was made just before 10:30 this morning. Some one had a nerve.

THE ELENA WINS AGAIN.

The Clark Gold Cup Goes to Morton F. Plant in Race From Newport.

Mr. Morton F. Plant's schooner Elena gained another victory in her long rivalry with the Irolita, Commodore E. Walter Clark's re-named Queen, when she won Sunday the annual race for the Clark gold cup, which was started from Newport Saturday morning. Two previous wins gained by the Elena over the Irolita and other yachts in this event gave the trophy to Mr. Plant. The cup was offered by Mr. F. Lewis Clark, formerly commodore of the Eastern Yacht Club, as an incentive to racing yachts to go east from the Sound for the club's annual cruise.

The Elena and the Irolita outclassed the three other competing yachts in this year's race. From the start, until the Elena crossed the finish line a winner at 7 a. m. Sunday, the race was always between these two old rivals. They struggled closely over most of the 163 miles from Newport to Marblehead, and at the finish there was less than 45 minutes between them. The Elena's winning time was 20h. 48m. 53s.

Four hours behind the Elena was the third boat, the Sea Fox, flagship of Commodore Dallas B. Pratt of the New York Yacht Club, which crossed the line in light airs after 11 a. m. The Vagrant II, Harold S. Vanderbilt's new schooner, on its first race, was two hours behind the Sea Fox, finishing last of the first division schooners, but winning in the second division, as the Shyessa IV, owned by Alfred Douglass, Boston's only representative, did not finish until after 4 p. m.

The race was sailed for the most part under light breezes. The moderate northwest breeze which prevailed at the start was followed after the fetch to Vineyard Sound lightship had been completed by a northerly wind. Calm, almost dead, followed, but the run up Vineyard Sound was made with a goodly spread of canvas. The Elena and the Irolita, now one, now the other, were in the lead up to Vineyard Sound lightship. At this point the Elena went to the front and it was a stern chase for the Irolita thereafter. The Sea Fox was third, the Shyessa fourth and the Vagrant fifth.

It was, in fact, practically a drifting match to the finish line, and it was a tired Eastern Yacht Club regatta committee which took the time of the last boat, more than 43 hours after the first had been expected to finish. The summary:

Yacht	Elapsed Time H.	M.	S.	Corrected Time H.	M.	S.
Elena	20	48	53	20	48	53
Irolita,	21	29	25	21	21	49
Sea Fox	24	53	58	24	12	05
Vagrant	26	53	51	25	19	32
Shyessa IV,	30	23	46	27	33	22

—The July number of The Trend has for its leading article "Why Have a Strong Navy," by Arthur Henry Dadmun, formerly secretary of the Newport Young Men's Christian Association and now secretary of the Navy League of the United States. An excellent portrait of Mr. Dadmun is the frontispiece of the magazine.

—The Odd Fellows' Home in East Providence, set aside as a place of retirement for aged members of the order and those dependent on them was formally dedicated Saturday afternoon by Grand Master George H. Curtis, assisted by the officials of the Rebekah branch, the Odd Fellows' Home Association and the Grand Encampment. Nearly 1000 members of the order assembled on the grounds surrounding the home to take part in the dedication.

BILL DRAFTING BY THE FEW.

Caucus Controls Legislative Procedure in Present Session of Congress.

Free For All Discussion Might Not Have Improved Measures—Anti-Suffragists Busy.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, June 28.—While there is so much said about the rule of the people, the initiative and referendum and other matters looking toward giving the people more active, direct and personal interest in the business of government, it is interesting to note how it works out in actual legislative procedure.

Already it has been demonstrated that the tariff was formulated by a few in the recesses of a committee room. It was considered by a caucus and put through the House without change. The procedure in the Senate has not differed to any extent up to the present time.

The currency bill was even more closely kept. Not even the majority members of the banking and currency committee had anything to do with it and made a complaint on that account. Chairman Glass, Chairman Owen, Secretary McAdoo and the President formulated, drafted and presented the currency measure to Congress for action.

The manner in which the important legislation of the present Congress has been conducted is not new. It has always been a few who took hold and formulated bills. But the interesting part of it is that the present Congress has been more inclined to "few men power" than any of its predecessors. And this in a day when there has been such a clamor for machine smashing and for allowing the people more voice in their affairs.

Naturally the question will be asked whether a better tariff bill or a better currency bill could have been formulated had both been thrown into the hopper and a free for all discussion with the privilege of all sorts of amendments allowed. It is doubtful whether the measures could have been improved in that way, but the representatives of the people would have had a real opportunity to initiate legislation.

"What is peyote?" asked Senator Gallinger during the consideration of the Indian bill.

"The Senator from New Mexico can explain," replied Chairman Stone.

"But I would prefer to have the Senator from Missouri explain," persisted Gallinger, who saw a little fun in it.

But Stone turned to Senator Fall, who told the Senate that peyote was a drink which the Indians made from cactus, which was not so intoxicating as whiskey, but a fair substitute.

Martin Maginnis, who was last a delegate from Montana back in 1887, was in the House recently and wandered about the back rows looking over the members to see if there was any one he knew. Only Sereno Payne and Fred Tibot were in the House when he was last here, and the major looked very lonely. He felt like a real "has been" when he saw only two familiar faces.

Congressman Roddenbery of Georgia is still in the House. The fact that he has not appeared in print nor enlivened the pages of the Congressional Record is because there has been no pension legislation thus far during the session. If the House keeps back all bills save a few which have been agreed upon by the Democratic caucus Roddenbery's occupation will surely be gone. But there is the regular session next winter. Then there must be pension legislation, and the Georgia member can renew his fight.

The Democratic members applauded President Wilson when he concluded his currency message, and yet there were mighty few among them who in private had not kicked vigorously against taking up currency legislation at this session. Most of them believed it was unnecessary, that time should be given to study the question or that the money trust investigation should go forward before action is taken. But still they applauded. The Democratic party is standing solidly behind Wilson.

The woman suffragists are not going to have everything their own way in the coming contest before Congress, if there is a real cotest to amend the constitution so as to permit women to vote. The antis are well organized in Washington and are working hard to prevent any action being taken.

It is observed that considerable literature of one kind or another is getting into the Record, which points out that this is no time to give the Philippines independence. If President Wilson makes Philippine independence a part of his program in the next session of Congress he is likely to have a deal of opposition in his own party.

END OF THE HOT WAVE NEAR.

An end is in sight to the hot wave which has held sway over the Central states for several days. In its weekly bulletin the Weather Bureau predicts that the extreme heat will be broken in the plains states Monday or Tuesday, and a cool wave will then move slowly eastward.

East of the Mississippi river warm weather will prevail during the first half of the week, followed by moderate temperature after Wednesday or Thursday.

The rainfall during the week will be generally light and local. A disturbance which now covers the plains states will advance slowly eastward, attended by local thunder showers, and cross the great central valleys about Tuesday and the Eastern states Thursday.

THE PERRY MEDAL DESIGN.

Centennial Souvenir Planned by the Gorham Company of Providence.

The accepted design for the official medal for the Perry centennial celebration at Put-in-Bay has been announced by the committee in charge of the affair, Colonel Harry Cutler, auditor general, and the special committee making public the design. A competition was held some time ago by the committee and at that time many of the leading gold and silversmiths, together with artists, submitted designs for the medal. The design accepted was made by Codman of the Gorham Manufacturing Company of Providence.

On the obverse appears a portrait of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry from the original painting by Gilbert Stuart. Copies of this painting hang in Sayles Hall at Brown University and at the Rhode Island Historical Society. Commodore Perry wears the undress uniform of the naval regulations of 1813 and according to historians, whose records Colonel Cutler looked up in the state library, this is the uniform which he wore when he received the surrender of Captain Barclay and the other British officers following the naval victory on the lakes.

On the reverse appears the design of the memorial which is being erected at Put-in-Bay, as it will look when completed. The central column is the second highest in the world, being exceeded only by the Washington Monument. The plaza is shown and on the Canadian side is the Peace building, commemorating the completion of 100 years of peace between the two great English-speaking nations, and on the American side the historical building.

SO DECEPTIVE.

Many Newport People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive.

It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.

Learn the cause then cure it.

Possibly it's weak kidneys.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

They're especially for weak or disordered kidneys.

Here's a Newport case.

Mrs. J. Shea, 106 Thames St., Newport, R. I., says: "I suffered from severe attacks of backache and my kidneys acted irregularly. I was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed at night. I was all run down and felt very nervous. I needed a good kidney tonic and found it in Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved the pain and distress in my back and benefited my whole system. They fixed my kidneys up all right and after I used them, I was better able to do my work. I give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit for making me well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FACE FULL OF RED PIMPLES

And Blackheads, On Both Sides of Nose, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Blackheads Gone, Pimples Dried Up and Disappeared.

53 Kendall St., Boston, Mass.—"My face was full of blackheads and red pimples which itched. They were on both sides of my nose. My nose was all sore and a regular scab came on it because I was always trying to do something for it, as when I went out everyone would say, 'Look at your nose. Why don't you do something for it?' I used cold cream and then someone told me to use ——, but nothing did me any good until a lady told me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I used the Cuticura Ointment at night, and when I got up in the morning I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and hot water, as hot as I could bear it. It was only three days when you could see a great improvement in my face. My blackheads are all gone, and my face is fine. The pimples just seemed to dry up and have all disappeared.

"I had some kind of a rash come out on my arms and all I did was to apply Cuticura Ointment at night and in the morning and it disappeared in about a week." (Signed) Miss Mary E. Fortune, Dec. 20, 1911.

CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

Are not only most effective for pimples, blackheads and other disfiguring facial eruptions, but they afford the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning, bleeding, and crusted skin and scalp humors, of young and old. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

WILL CONTINUE TO RUN.

The New Shoreham to be Managed by Purser Payne.

The charter of steamer New Shoreham by the New England Steamship Company expires today and will not be renewed, at least for the present. The New Shoreham, however, will run as at present, only the town of New Shoreham will be in control and it is understood that Mr. Elmer Payne, purser on the boat, will act as manager of the steamer. The boat will continue to land at Long wharf, but a special man to look after the freight, as it will no longer be handled by the crew of the New England Steamship Company. The running time will continue the same as heretofore. The New Shoreham has been doing a big business in freight to this city.

BULGARIANS ANXIOUS TO SEIZE THE RAILROAD.

Attack Opened on Servians Along Line in Macedonia.

Great Excitement in Parliament on Hearing News of Hostilities.

BELGRADE, June 30.—The Bulgarians this morning opened an attack on the Servian troops along the whole line in Macedonia, according to despatches from the Servian headquarters. The publication of the news created immense excitement in the Servian capital.

At 2 o'clock this morning the Servians advanced posts before Istip, were attacked by the Bulgarians, and a couple of hours later the Bulgarian artillery was brought into action. The fighting gradually spread until it was proceeding at Rega, Boukva, Zletovo, Neogast and Valandovo. The Bulgarians appear intent upon seizing the railroad.

The Servian premier, N. P. Pachitch, who was addressing the Servian Parliament in support of his policy of accepting the arbitration offered by the Russian emperor when the news of the breaking out of hostilities was brought in by an official of the foreign office, hurriedly left the chamber and proceeded to his office.

The excitement in the house was so great that the sitting had to be suspended until tomorrow and the fate of the Pachitch cabinet remains undecided. The opposition members demand guarantees that the territory in Macedonia now held by the Servian troops shall be annexed.

Noon—Trading bore its recent aspect of professionalism and moves were uncertain during the forenoon session. Following the early decline there was a recovery, but the market again worked lower before noon. The vulnerability of the bear position was disclosed by the difficulty which the shorts experienced in covering, except on a rising market. Disappointment over the weekly bank statement, disclosing a loss in cash instead of the large gain predicted, was of some sentimental effect in restraining speculation. Traders also were inclined to hold off for news from St. Paulas to the exact terms of the Harriman plan, which was to be presented in court today. Uncertainties of the money market, tariff and currency legislation, and the crops served to check investment buying, and outside demand remained at a minimum, notwithstanding the high return on various securities at present prices. Bonds were irregular. Money on call, steady, at 2 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 6 per cent. Exchanges, $335,922,731; balances, $18,549,621.

OUT OF THE ORDINARY.

Miss Nelson Surprised by Malley-Denison Company on Eve of Wedding.

There was something out of the ordinary in connection with the performance of "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" at the Opera House Saturday evening, a pleasant incident which had its origin in the fact that Miss Florence I. Nelson, who has been with the Malley-Denison Company several weeks, closed her engagement on the stage to take a position in the matrimonial field. Miss Nelson was popular with the company and the members decided that they would not allow her to leave them without some recognition of the event.

At the close of the second act the entire company appeared in response to a call from the audience and a number of articles were handed over the footlights to Neil Barrett, who called Miss Nelson out from the chorus group, where she had modestly retired. He presented her with a silver loving cup filled with flowers, the gift of the members of the company; a case of silver spoons, from Messrs. Malley and Denison, and a large photograph of herself, the gift of Manager Rugen. Mr. Barrett made a pleasant speech as he presented the gifts and Miss Nelson attempted to respond. She was so completely surprised that, although assisted by Miss Blanche Shirley, she was unable to say more than that she was surprised and did not really know what to say. She managed to heartily thank her stage companions and the managers for their gifts.

There was another little incident which did not receive so much publicity; at least, the audience did not fully appreciate it. Miss Shirley, the leading woman of the company, who has made many friends in Newport by her capable acting and charming personality, had a birthday anniversary Saturday. Although she did not tell how old she was (actresses never do), she had let a few of her friends know of the anniversary, and at the close of the second act she received two handsome bouquets.

Miss Nelson left the company at the close of the preformance Saturday evening and will go to Toronto, where she will be married in a few days, retiring permanently, from the stage.

HIGHER THAN ELSEWHERE.

Board of Trade Moves for Reduction in the Local Price of Ice.

A special meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade, held Saturday afternoon, which was attended also by Mayor MacLeod and City Solicitor Sullivan, was called to consider the present conduct of the ice business in Newport. Every one knows that prices are high, and nearly all know they must be high, but the Board of Trade feels that it is its duty to see that Newport does not pay more than other places. Indeed, it is the various reports of higher prices, loss of trade and a drifting away from Newport, rather than the mere fact that prices are high, which caused this meeting.

There was a general discussion of the conditions at present prevailing and the best action to take to conserve the interests of the city as a whole. It was voted to request Mayor MacLeod to instruct City Solicitor Sullivan to go to Providence today and lay the facts of the local ice situation before the attorney general for immediate action. It was also voted to appoint Ernst Voigt, John R. Austin and President Harry A. Titus a committee to prepare plans to relieve the present situation and arrange for the future handling of this much needed commodity, ice, in Newport.

The city solicitor left this morning for Providence, to consult the attorney general.

There are various phases of this ice business which caused the Board of Trade to act. Outside of the raising of prices, which was expected, there was the matter of a greater increase of price in Newport than in some other places, and the consequent driving away from Newport of the fishermen, who formerly came here to ship fish but will not pay the price asked here when they say they can buy for elsewhere cheaper.

With the retail trade all in the hands of one company, not only has the price been raised 15 cents on 100 pounds, but complaint is heard of neglect to supply would-be takers, and no amount of pleading or threats seems to bring ice to some residences.

The price of ice on the Island, delivered form farm to farm, both east side and west side, is 60 cents for 100 pounds.

IN HONOR OF MISS JULIA HOLT.

The employes of the Bee Hive, numbering about 32, will be the guests of the Hess Company at a lobster supper at the beach about 7 o'clock this evening, in honor of Miss Julia Holt, who has seen 25 continuous years of employment with the firm. A general good time will be had, including dancing, and some speech-making. Mr. Louis Hess and his son, Mr. Everett I. Hess, are the members of the firm who will try to show in this manner their appreciation of Miss Holt's many years of usefulness and capability.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Rear Admral Caperton Entertains, Other Dinners and Luncheons.

Rear Admiral William B. Caperton, U. S. N., commandant of the Naval Station, Narragansett bay, and Mrs. Caperton gave a dinner Saturday evening at their residence at the Naval Training Station in honor of Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and Mrs. Badger. The other guests were Captain Templin M. Potts, commanding battleship Louisiana, and Mrs. Potts; Captain William L. Rodgers, president of the Naval War College and Miss Rodgers; Captain Roger Welles, commanding the Naval Training Station, and Mrs. Welles, and Commander George W. Williams, inspector in charge of the Torpedo Station, and Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. E. H. G. Slater gave a dinner at "Hopedene" in honor of Senor Riano, the Spanish minister, and Senora Riano Mr and Mrs Ernest Howe and Mrs. Theodore F. Kane also entertained at dinner.

Luncheons were given by Mrs. Stuart Duncan at her residence, "Bonnlecrest," on Harrison avenue; Miss Fanny Johnson at the Dennen cottage, Mrs. Andrew M. Morlekind at "Hraehmound," Mrs. Elisha Dyer at "Wayside" and Mrs. George W. Williams at the Torpedo Station.

Mr. Hermann Oelrichs entertained informally on board his new yacht Cassandra. The officers of the Severn gave a dinner and dance on board the vessel Saturday evening.

Sunday Captain Templin M. Potts entertained at luncheon on the Louisiana and Captain Frank K. Hill gave a luncheon on the New Jersey.

ARCANUM MEMORIAL DAY.

Graves of Deceased Members' of Councils Decorated by Committee.

Coronet Council, Royal Arcanum, observed Arcanum Memorial Sunday by decorating the graves of deceased members of the local and other Councils of the order who are buried in the cemeteries of the city and vicinity. A large number of members met at the office of Superintendnt McMahon early Sunday morning and under the direction of the entertainment committee, Mr. Fred Bloom chairman, prepared bouquets for 84 graves from a large quantity of flowers contributed by members and friends of the Council. Then sub-committees were formed to place the flowers on the graves which have been designated by Arcanum markers. In all 71 graves of Arcanum members in the Island cemetery, 11 in the Old, Braman and City cemeteries, and one each at St. Columba's and the Berkeley Memorial Chapel in Middletown, were decorated. The larger part are those of members of Coronet Council, but every member of the order, belonging to other Councils, buried here, was similarly honored.

TRAVELS ON BRONCHO PONY

"Cowgirl Prima Donna" Makes Journeys Between Cities on Horseback.

Gertrude Van Dyke, the "cowgirl prima donna," who is to be one of the features of the vaudeville bill at Freebody Park this week does not travel about the country in parlor cars, as drumatic artists generally do, but depends on her broncho pony, "Spots," to make the journeys between cities. She was brought up in the far West and owns a 2,000-acre ranch in McAlester, Okl., and having been accustomed to riding since she was old enough to sit in the saddle prefers that method of traveling.

She came East some time ago, making a long trip from Boise City to Chicago on horseback and continued to New York in the same way. Recently she rode from New York to Philadelphia and back. She left New York Saturday morning on "Spots" and came over the road at the way to Newport.

NEW YORK STORE ROBBED.

Udall & Ballou Suffer a Mysterious Loss of Valuable Jewelry.

The New York store of Udall & Ballou, which has a branch in the King block on Bellevue avenue, was mysteriously robbed Friday night of 15 trays of jewelry, valued at $100,000. They had been placed in the safe during the afternoon and the store was closed as usual. Early in the evening a small fire was discovered in the basement, which was put out without damage to the store and the police were left on guard during the night. In the morning the manager went to the safe and found the combination unlocked and the safe robbed of the trays, with no clue to the perpetrators. Sunday, in overhauling the debris of the fire in the basement, the remains of the trays were discovered, but no trace of the jewels.

Henry A. Kirby, secretary and salesmanager, says he left the store five minutes after 6 o'clock Friday night, after Miss Emily E. Lucey, another employe of the firm, had placed the trays in the safe. He had observed Miss Lucey close the safe door, but did not watch to see if she locked it, presuming she would do so, as that was part of her duty.

It is said that Kirby admits having gone into the basement before he left the store Friday evening, his purpose being, as he explained it, "to see that everything was all right." He was much afraid of fire and had given strict orders to employes to see that no unnecessary rubbish was thrown into the basement and that the place should be kept scrupulously clean. After inspecting the basement and finding it in good condition, he returned to the store, closed the alarm protected door, thereby establishing electrical connection with the Holmes offices, and left the store.

In view of the mysterious circumstances surrounding the robbery the police are loth to make admissions, but it is learned from an authoritative source that the theory that the robbery was committed by professional thieves has been abandoned and that two or more employes of Udall & Ballou are under surveillance. The identity of these has not been revealed.

PEDDLER'S CART ACCIDENT.

Horse Dies Where He Falls and Wagon Rests on Car Tracks.

This morning, just after 8 o'clock, the peddler's cart of Moses David, in charge of a small boy, was driving down John street when the breeching broke and the horse started to run. The lad could do nothing to stop him and he dashed into the high wooden fence of the railroad company at the foot of the street, pushing in the fence and making an impression on the shed beyond. The horse hit the stringer so that his neck was broken and he died just where he fell.

Eggs, strawberries and other material were scattered about and the wagon rested so that the cars were compelled to transfer passengers until it was moved. The runaway came just after the 8 o'clock car had left the waiting room; had it come down while the car was there some one on the car might have been hurt.

ANSON PHELPS STOKES.

Owner of the Miantonomi Hill Property Expires in New York.

Mr. Anson Phelps Stokes, who owns the Miantonomi Hill property in this city, died Saturday afternoon at his home in New York in his seventy-sixth year. While death was immediately due to apoplexy, of which he had had a stroke in the morning, it was directly traceable to a riding accident 12 years ago at Lenox, Mass. Injuries to his leg at that time necessitated amputation, and since he had never been in his previous robust health.

Mr. Stokes was prominent in business circles in New York. He was a partner in the mercantile house of Phelps, Dodge and Co., and later in Phelps, Stokes Co., bankers; was chairman of the board of directors of the Woodbridge company and of the Haynes company, and a director in the United States Trust Company and, in the Mechanics' Bank. Formerly he was a trustee or director in the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, the American Social Science Association, the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company, the Second National Bank, the Home for Incurables, the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The deceased took special interest in civil service reform work and was the first president of the Reform Club. He was greatly interested in yachting, and for two terms was vice commodore of the New York Yacht Club. In 1903 he went by steamship to California and returned overland. He made numerous trips to the West Indies and other places in his yachts, the Clyde, Mermaid and Sea Fox.

Mr. Stokes was a member of the Century, New York Yacht, Knickerbocker, Reform, Riding, Seawanhaka Yacht, Church, City and Lenox clubs. He was active in church work and formerly was a vestryman of the Church of the Heavenly Rest.

He leaves eight children—Mr. I. N. Phelps Stokes, architectural member of the Municipal Art Commission; Mr. J. G. Phelps Stokes; Mr. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., secretary of Yale University; Mr. Harold Phelps Stokes, Mrs. Sarah Halkett, Miss Helen Phelps Stokes, Mrs. John Sherman Hoyt, Mrs. Robert Hunter and Mrs. Ranson S. Hooker.

UNUSUALLY BUSY DAYS.

Something Going On at All Times at the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

Saturday and Sunday were unusually busy days at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, there being something going on at all times. The enlisted men who frequented the building were well entertained and made to feel entirely at home. Saturday evening the band from the North Dakota gave a concert, pleasing a large crowd.

Sunday afternoon's attendance at the Home Hour Bible Club was large, considering the warm weather. After a lively song service Secretary Andrews spoke to the men. Mr. Osborne, physical director of the Brooklyn Naval Young Men's Christian Association, led in prayer. At the invitation of the women of the First Presbyterian Church, the men marched there for a luncheon. There was an abundance of sandwiches, home-made cake and coffee, and one fellow was so delighted with the "eats" that he proposed three cheers for the women. An informal service followed the luncheon. A roll-call showed that there were present representatives of 24 states and of Scotland. Mr. Osborne sang a solo and said a few words. One apprentice seaman offered to sing a solo and made a hit with his shipmates. At 7:30 the men attended the evening service.

A LAUGHING ABSURDITY.

"Follies of the Day" the Head-Line Attraction at the Colonial Theatre.

Herbert Hayman presents the laughing absurdity entitled "Follies of the Day" as the head-line attraction at the Colonial for the first half of the week. Charles Buckley and a company of 14, mostly girls, will produce this musical skit, which is full of action and mirth. Other features will introduce Leonard Kane, "The Dancing Adonis," which is a pretty novelty, presenting the dancer in a handsome golden frame set amid special stage hangings. George Smedley, also using special settings, will give his latest musical novelty, which is different from the usual run of such acts.

The picture program will feature the two-reel special from the Lubin company entitled "The Weaker Mind," a story strong for dramatic action and effective scenes, well photographed and acted. Among the other subjects is a travelogue called "The City of Gold," showing the most noted city of the Burmah empire, with its wonderful gold-topped temples and other bits of ancient architecture.

New selections by the Colonial orchestra will complete the bill.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

At the Art Association's second annual meeting, Saturday afternoon, the reports of the officers showed a membership of 230 and a general prosperous condition. The following officers were elected, the selections being made from the nominations sent to members a short time ago:

President—William Coles Cabell.
Secretary—Mrs. John Elliott.
Treasurer—Charles Biesel.
Art Council—John Elliott, William Sergeant Kendall, Albert Sterner.
Associate Members of Council—Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, Rev. John B. Diman, Harford W. H. Powel.

CAPTAIN BENJAMIN NICHOLS.

Retired Employe of the Fall River Line of Steamers Dies in Jamestown.

Had Visited All Parts of the World as a Whaler and Undergone Many Experiences.

The flags on the Fall River Line steamers are at half-mast for Captain Benjamin Nichols, a retired employe of the line who has made Newport his home for many years. He died Sunday in Jamestown, where he had been boarding of late, death coming as he expected. During the spring he came to the News office and turned over all his service papers, saying the News was likely to have use for them almost any time. He was subject to attacks of heart failure and was expecting to pass off in one of these spells any time. He had suffered from stricture of the stomach for half a century.

His wife died last October and about a year previous one of his daughters, and he felt deeply the breaking up of his home in his advanced years. He was a capable officer and had many friends. Two daughters survive him, Mrs. George B. Fisher of Craigville, Mass., and Mrs. G. W. Ralston of Providence, Mrs. Nichols was a sister of Messrs. B. F., E. J. and F. B. Tanner.

Benjamin Nichols was born in Carver, Mass., practically in the woods, as the nearest house could not be seen because of the trees. His father was Benjamin Read Nichols, who worked in the rolling mills at Wareham and later moved to Onanganset, near New Bedford, where he conducted a hotel, did blacksmithing and operated a stage line.

Young Nichols was perhaps eight years old when an old whaling captain spent the winter at his father's hotel and talked all winter long of his sea experiences. When 15 years of age, or more explicitly in October, 1842, the boy shipped on schooner Atlantic, Captain Reynolds, a coaster running out of Fall River.

July 7, 1843, he shipped as a green hand on bark Jane, for a whaling voyage in the South Atlantic and Pacific oceans. It was at this time that he secured his first protection paper, and in the language of the day he was "aged 16 years or thereabouts." The paper, which in those days it was necessary for every American seaman to carry to protect himself from being impressed into a foreign navy, was signed by Charles J. Holmes, collector of Fall River, Mass.

Upon reaching Valparaiso, Chili, in 1845, the Jane was sold and the crew discharged, Nichols being among the number. He then shipped on the Eliza Adams of Fairhaven and completed the cruise on her.

September 19, 1846, he sailed again on a whaling voyage, leaving New Bedford on ship Charles Frederick, Captain Hewlett P. Barnes, for a sperm whale voyage to the Pacific. He made the whole voyage, returning to New Bedford May 12, 1850.

April 1, 1851, he sailed on bark Lexington from the same port as second mate and in her cruised in the Atlantic ocean.

As a whaler he visited all parts of the world both Arctic and Antarctic. He was in boats which were many. He was in boats which were broken up by frenzied whales, and on one occasion when he was boat steerer and they had made up to a whale under sail he actually jumped out on the whale and pushed the boat off while the men were taking in sail.

On his first whaling voyage he suffered a serious sickness as the result of his ship taking 600 wrecked slaves from the Western Islands to Liberia. Some of them died in the hold, from the fever; boy fashion, he looked down, and in doing so inhaled the fever. There was no doctor, but everything in the ship's medicine chest was given him and he was even made to take human hair chopped and mixed with molasses. Finally land was reached and he was given milk and rice, and on this he began to mend, but was agreed by the crew to be the sickest person they ever saw w ho lived. Later they visited some of the islands of the Pacific, and the fine, silky hair which had begun to grow in the place of that which came out with the fever was looked upon with wonder by the natives.

His whaling at an end, he turned his attention to steamboating. In October, 1852, he went with the Fall River line as quartermaster on the Empire state, and from there went to the Electra, running between Providence and New York. Then he was on the Bay State and Metropolis, and May 19, 1865, while serving as mate of the Oceanicus, had an offer to become first mate of the old four-stacked steamer Newport. He accepted and later was transferred to the Bristol. From the Bristol he went to the Cepheus, an iron steamer running to Coney Island, holding a master's license.

From this position he came back to the Fall River line, serving three years as port captain here. He was then put back on the Bristol, from her transferred to the Providence, and finally was on the Puritan, when June 15, 1904, while serving as first mate, he was placed on the retired list.

He was on the Empire State when her boilers blew up off Point Judith and 22 were scalded; was on the Bay State when her connecting rod broke adrift and came near completely wrecking the boat, and on the Plymouth when the Taunton ran into her and killed six men.

FATHER CRONAN'S NEW ASSIGNMENT.

Rev. Philip A. Cronan, formerly assistant at St. Mary's Church in this city, has been appointed assistant at St. Joseph's Church, Ashton, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Jeremiah W. Baggott, in Europe. Father Cronan has been in poor health for several years since leaving Newport, six years ago, having been so ill for five years that he had no church duties and remained at his home in Taunton. He has been much improved of late and last December was assigned an assistant curate of St. Patrick's Church, Fall River. He was a recent visitor to Newport and told his former friends here that he was better than for many years.

RECRUITING OFFICE CLOSED.

The army recruiting station in this city, located in the News building, closed today and Corporal Kelley, who had charge, with the two men under him left for Providence. It was found that on account of the superabundance of uniforms on the streets at all times recruiting is not sufficiently brisk here to warrant keeping the office open longer. Corporal Kelley and the men with him did the best they could to secure recruits, but the conditions were against them

TO BE ENTIRELY RE-BUILT.

Improved New Cliffs Hotel Will Have a Roof Garden and Rathskeller.

The New Cliffs Hotel, which has recently been purchased by Mr. J. V. Jordan, will be entirely re-built in the fall. Plans have already been drawn by Mr. M. A. McCormick, which will make the hotel one of the most elaborate in the city. The floor plan will be enlarged to take in the entire lot, measuring 100 by 100 feet; the present material of the structure will be changed into asbestos cement throughout, with asbestos shingles on the roof; another story will be added, making four in all, and two towers will be set on the front corners.

A novelty will be the roof garden, where automobile parties will be served a la carte, two elevators making it easy of access. A Rathskeller down stairs will be another addition which it is thought will be popular. When complete the hotel will have 110 sleeping rooms, 57 of them with baths, including shower bath.

Mr. Jordon will also keep open the cottages across the street, where the old Robinson is located, and run them in conjunction with the larger hotel opposite.

MISS VAN ALEN ENGAGED.

Cables From England Announce Coming Marriage to Griswold A. Thompson.

The engagement of Miss May Van Alen, daughter of Mr. James J. Van Alen, to Mr. Griswold A. Thompson of New York, which has been rumored for some time, was formally announced Saturday by Miss Van Alen in cables from England to friends in this country. She is well known in Newport, where she has spent the summers with her father at "Wakehurst" for many years. She has spent her entire time in recent years in England, having been but infrequently in this country, and then only on short visits.

Miss Van Alen is one of the many descendants in this country and Europe of the first John Jacob Astor, founder of the Astor fortune. Her mother was Miss Emily Astor, one of the five children of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Astor, and a sister of Mrs. Marshall Orme Wilson, Mrs. George Ogilvy Hair of London, the late Colonel John Jacob Astor and the late Mrs. James Roosevelt Roosevelt. Mrs. Van Alen, who was married in 1876, died in 1891. Miss Van Alen is a sister of Mr. J. Laurens Van Alen and Mrs. Robert J. Collier. Mr. Vincent Astor is her cousin.

Mr. Thompson, who is in the bond and investment business, is a son of Mr. P. H. Thompson. His mother, who was Miss Caroline Griswold, was regarded as one of the most beautiful women in society in New York. His father, who makes his home with him at 16 East Sixtieth street, is in his eighty-seventh year. Mr. Thompson is vice president of the Commonwealth Water Company. He lived in England for some time and customarily spends a part of each summer in Newport.

BICYCLIST VS. ROLLER SKATER.

A novelty contest, between a bicyclist and a roller skater, has been arranged for the Rollo rink for Wednesday evening. It will be for one mile, the skater being Floor Manager O'Rourke, who has beaten everybody he has met on skates, and the bicycle rider "Reckless Recklam," one of the team of the Bartons which was at Freebody Park last week. That O'Rourke is fast on skates, every one who has seen any of his races at the rink knows, and that the bicycle rider is clever in his line has been shown at the Park. It will be the first time there has been such a contest in Newport and there are possibilities of the liveliest sort of a race.

CURRIE-ROGERS.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Vernon Rogers, youngest daughter of Mrs. Floyd W. Rogers and granddaughter of the late Charles E. Hammett of this city, to Mr. Elwood Stanley Currie of New York took place Saturday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Gregory, at Hasting on the Hudson. The bride was escorted by her brother, Mr. James Floyd Rogers; the maid of honor was Miss Ruth Haire of this city and the best man Mr. Frank McCammon of New York. After a wedding trip to be spent in New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Currie will go to Chicago to reside.
